Governor -

I just received an email from RNC. They have confirmed your speech for Thursday, September 4, 2008 (evening). They are not able to confirm the time as of yet - approx. 8:00 or 9:00 p.m. So, that will mean some changes to the flight schedule I had just emailed. We will have to return you on Friday, September 5, 2008. The flight times remain the same. You will then be out of state from Monday, 09.01 through Friday, 09.05.08. Janice

Stat Alert –August 14, 2008: Descriptive Summary of 2003-04 Beginning Postsecondary Students: Three Years Later - The National Center for Education Statistics (NCES)

The National Center for Education Statistics (NCES) has released Descriptive Summary of 2003-04 Beginning Postsecondary Students: Three Years Later (http://nces.ed.gov//pubs2008/2008174.pdf). Data presented in this report cover the postsecondary enrollment patterns over three years of students who enrolled for the first time in 2003-04. It also provides information about academic preparation, family income, and other characteristics.

The Western Interstate Commission for Higher Education (WICHE) strives to maintain excellent communication with the education policy and research communities. To subscribe or unsubscribe to the Policy Alerts and/or Stat Alerts distribution lists, please email your name, title, and organization to Cheryl Graves at cgraves@wiche.edu. These electronic distribution lists are used only to support WICHE-sponsored programs and to share resources about relevant issues in higher education policy and research. As an additional resource, WICHE maintains a Policy Publication Clearinghouse on the web at http://wiche.edu/policy/Clearinghouse, which includes past Policy Alerts and Stat Alerts, as well as other studies, reports, surveys, and policy briefs.

This is Randy Mattocks, in Wasilla. I just wanted to say that I am behind you all the way. I am primarily and independent but have always leaned toward the Democratic part of things, but I have been a supporter of yourself since I met you at the Alaska Club. I think the good ole boy network just can't stand to see the positive changes taking place so they are doing what they can to make trouble for you. You are a good person and I know you will prevail. My best to you and I hope someday I can introduce my wife to you, a few months back I was in Juneau and stopped in to see Mike Nisiqak. Known him for years and years and he is also a real good person. Best wishes Randal K. Mattocks

Search efforts have been re-energized today by better weather and new information that significantly narrows the search area to a particular section of the Mansfield Peninsula of Admiralty Island. There have been corroborating reports of a loud impact heard from this area Saturday evening. Also, detailed information from Brian and Brandon's flight instructor has helped imagine the decisions they likely would have made as they dealt with weather situations on the return from Young Lake. All this information points to a particular area to focus today's efforts.

Helicopter crews are covering the area this afternoon, as well as ground crews from Juneau Mountain Rescue. The ground crews are being assisted by "sea dogs," specially trained for tracking human and fuel scents. There is also a Department of Fish and Game research vessel working the area with side scan sonar trying to locate anything underwater.

Brian's son BJ has set up a website that collects news on the search efforts. The web address is: http://andrewsinak.wordpress.com/

I'll send out more information as it comes in...

-Pat

Governor Palin,

With all the criticism you are receiving I thought of an important quote for that has incredible implication to you.

Teddy Roosevelt said:

"It is not the critic who counts: not the man who points out how the strong man stumbles or where the doer of deeds could have done better. The credit belongs to the man who is actually in the arena, whose face is marred by dust and sweat and blood, who strives valiantly, who errs and comes up short again and again, because there is no effort without error or shortcoming, but who knows the great enthusiasms, the great devotions, who spends himself for a worthy cause; who, at the best, knows, in the end, the triumph of high achievement, and who, at the worst, if he fails, at least he fails while daring greatly, so that his place shall never be with those cold and timid souls who knew neither victory nor defeat."

You are the Wo(man) in the arena, this will blow over and you are doing a great job. Thanks.

Sincerely,

Cameron McFarlane

1. WASTE MANAGEMENT INCREASES OFFER FOR REPUBLIC BY 10% TO $6.73 B

Waste Management, Inc., as expected, increased its unsolicited cash offer for rival Republic Services, Inc. by nearly 10% to $6.73 billion or from $34 per share to $37 per share, and has proposed to pay Republic a fee of $250 million if the two companies are unable to close a transaction in the event that the U.S. Department of Justice opposes the deal. Waste Management said that its new offer represents a premium of 32.6% over Republic's closing stock price on July 11, 2008, the last trading day prior to Waste Management's announcement of its initial offer. Republic Services, which had previously reached an agreement to merge with Allied Waste Industries, Inc., responded to Waste Management's new offer by saying that it will "carefully review" the proposal "consistent with its fiduciary duties." Allied Waste Chairman and CEO John Zillmer was less reserved in his response, however. "Despite strong opposition from its own shareholders and other constituencies, and the severe antitrust regulatory and financing challenges associated with its unsolicited proposal to acquire Republic, Waste Management is pushing ahead with its attempt to disrupt our two companies' strategic plans with another offer that pales in comparison to the significant value that will be generated through the combination of Republic and Allied," Zillmer said in press release."..Read More »

2. ALLIED WASTE CEO HAS HARSH WORDS FOR WASTE MANAGEMENT

Allied Waste Industries Inc.'s CEO John Zillmer has harsh words for rival Waste Management, Inc. which has raised its offer for Republic Services, Inc. despite that company's plans to merge with Allied (announced June 23). In its effort to thwart the Allied-Republic merger, Waste Management recently increased its offer by 10% to $6.73 billion or $37 per share. "Despite strong opposition from its own shareholders and other constituencies, and the severe antitrust regulatory and financing challenges associated with its unsolicited proposal to acquire Republic, Waste Management is pushing ahead with its attempt to disrupt our two companies' strategic plans," Allied chief executive John Zillmer said in a recent statement. "The revised offer of $37 per share remains inferior to the range of values supporting the merger of Republic and Allied Waste."..Read More »

3. BILL GATES IS ACCUMULATING REPUBLIC SHARES

Bill Gates' investment arm Cascade Investment LLC has made a number of purchases of Republic Services, Inc. stock in recent days. According to filings with the Securities and Exchange Commission, his stake currently amounts to 30.7 million shares which is close to about 17% of the company. Late last month, Republic's board of directors adopted poison pill measures aimed to thwart Waste Management's unsolicited offer for the company. The measures penalize purchasers of more than 10% of company stock without board approval, but provide an exception for Cascade Investment which already owned 15% is allowed to accumulate up to 20%...Read More »

4. PENNSYLVANIA APPROVES CONESTOGA LANDFILL GAS-TO-ENERGY PROJECT

The Pennsylvania DEP has approved plans by the Conestoga Landfill in Berks County to construct a $10 million treatment plant and 9-mile pipeline in order to ship its gas to Lancaster County where it will help power local industry. Project developer Granger Energy had to acquire a 27-acre site adjacent to the landfill to construct the large treatment plant which dries and filters the gas to make it suitable for export. The pipeline will eventually connect with another that takes gas from the nearby Lanchester Landfill in Narvon, PA. Taken together, the Conestoga and Lanchester landfill gas projects are expected to produce the energy equivalent of 200,000 barrels of oil annually, while eliminating air emissions equal to the output of 16,000 vehicles, according to reports...Read More »

5. DUKE ENERGY SIGNS LANDFILL GAS DEAL IN DURHAM, NC

Duke Energy has signed a 20-year agreement to buy power created from methane gas captured from a now closed City of Durham, NC landfill. Beginning on May 1, Duke Energy will begin buying up to 2 megawatts of power, enough to power 1,600 homes, from project developer Methane Power Inc. Tapping the gas to generate electricity is part of a broader effort by the Charlotte utility to increase its use of renewable energy sources to stem global warming. By state law, utilities must use renewables and conservation to meet 12.5% of their sales by 2021. Methane Power will install internal combustion engines to burn the gas and generate the power...Read More »

6. BFI CANADA POSTS A VERY STRONG 2Q

BFI Canada Income Fund reported second quarter net income that nearly tripled to $15 million, or $0.26 per share from $5.8 million, or $0.10 per share last year. According to CEO Keith Carrigan, "Consolidated revenues in the second quarter and year to date grew 31.6% and 32.7% respectively, excluding the impact of foreign currency translation. Our second quarter and year to date organic revenue, which excludes acquisitions, fuel and environmental surcharges, and foreign currency translation, grew by 11.1% and 12.2% in Canada, and 6.2% and 6.2% in the U.S." In its conference call with investors, the company said it was considering shedding its six-year-old trust structure as a strategy to improve access to capital. Increasing industry mergers and acquisitions, including talks between Waste Management, Republic and Allied, are said to be drawing other companies into the fray, particularly if the bigger firms are forced to divest assets as a precondition of their deal...Read More »

7. VEOLIA ENVIRONNEMENT MAKES CHICAGO NORTH AMERICAN HOME

Paris-based environmental services giant Veolia Environnement SA is establishing its North American headquarters in Chicago. The company will consolidate about 60 executives and support personnel that had been dispersed at offices in several cities to a 34,500 square foot floor of the Aon Center skyscraper. Veolia, founded in the mid-19th Century, is the largest water firm in the world. It has 320,000 workers and had $48 billion in gross revenues last year. Its operations in waste collection and disposal, energy conservation, water treatment and transportation employ 31,000 in North America and produced revenues of $4.5 billion last year. The company operates 32 landfills and 10 waste-to-energy projects in North America...Read More »

8. VEOLIA ES NAMES NEW HEAD OF HAZARDOUS WASTE DIVISION

Veolia ES Technical Solutions, L.L.C., the hazardous waste division of Veolia Environmental Services, has named Jim Bell as its new president and CEO. Bell, who was previously vice president of eastern region operations at Veolia ES Technical Solutions, replaces Philippe Martin, who has been appointed to the position of vice president of innovation and technology for Paris-based Veolia Environnement. "My overriding objective is to continue the exceptional growth of the Technical Solutions business by building upon improvements in the quality of our people, safety in the workplace, and efficiencies in facilities and services, including expanding our recycling and reclaim capabilities," Bell said upon assuming his new duties on August 1...Read More »

9. ENERGYSOLUTIONS PROFITS DOUBLE IN SECOND QUARTER

EnergySolutions said second quarter profits doubled to $12.6 million, or $0.14 per share, from $6 million earned in the same period last year. The company's acquisition of British Reactor Sites Management Co. in June 2007 helped to nearly triple revenues for the quarter to $460 million from $162 million last year. "In this, our second full quarter as a public company, I am very pleased with the performance of each of our business units and the progress each has made in executing our long-term strategic goals," said R. Steve Creamer, EnergySolutions' CEO. While revenues increased for federal services and international operations, those of the commercial services division declined on lower volume at the company's low-level radioactive and hazardous waste site in Tooele County...Read More »

10. CHANGING WORLD TECHNOLOGIES FILES FOR IPO

Changing World Technologies Inc., which produces diesel oil and fertilizer from animal and food processing waste, is filing paperwork to go public. The West Hempstead, N.Y.-based company said it has filed the paperwork with the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission "relating to the proposed initial public offering of its common stock." The company's demonstration plant in Carthage, MO, has gained attention for converting turkey waste into oil...Read More »

11. GREENMAN TECHNOLOGIES POSTS 42% REVENUE INCREASE

Savage, Minn.-based GreenMan Technologies Inc. said that improved sales of processed scrap tires and income from discontinued operations in Georgia boosted second quarter revenues by 42% to $7.6 million compared to $5.3 million last year. Net income rose to $3 million, or $0.10 per share, from $314,000, or $0.01 per share last year. "Our focus during the past two years on quality of revenue, earnings and cash flow has created significant internal value that is not easily recognized due to the historical debt on our balance sheet," said Lyle Jensen, president and CEO. GreenMan recycles more than 12 million tires annually into tire-derived fuel, aggregate and crumb rubber...Read More »

Molly and Wooten are still in a custody dispute/battle. It's not over, in other words.

Fair to say the Governor believes the tape of Frank Bailey does not prove the administration was trying to pressure Monegan or DPS to get rid of Wooten. (I'm confidant in this based on our talk this morning, but just trying to double check)

Randy Ruedrich and others:

Nellie Miller, mother of Mike Miller and the late Terry Miller, has died. Last Sunday.

She has been in failing health for the past three or four years.

I don't have many details at this point. The Fairbanks Daily News-Miner will have an obituary tomorrow, I believe.

Besides being very active in the Republican Party in the 1960's through the 1980's, she was involved with the City of North Pole incorporation and subsequent affairs. Her husband was mayor for many years. Nellie served (long, long time) on the school board in North Pole before the borough was formed in 1964. She was pretty much the driving force behind the construction of the first school in North Pole.

Nellie was a most interesting woman who had a very keen intellect. And political savvy. She was very, very proud of her two sons and daughter Merry Christmas Miller. As you know, both sons served in the legislature for many years. Terry went on to become lieutenant governor.

Subject: Ashley Reed Charged

State Files Criminal Charges Against Lobbyist For Late Disclosure

(Anchorage, AK) – The State of Alaska has filed criminal charges against Ashley Reed, a longtime lobbyist, alleging that he knowingly failed to file timely reports under the Regulation of Lobbying Act, AS 24.45.151. The Act requires lobbyists to file reports with the Alaska Public Offices Commission disclosing their lobbying activities, compensation, disbursements and expenditures. These reports are required to be filed by certain dates and to disclose lobbying information for defined periods. During legislative sessions the law requires a report to be filed for each month the legislature is in session so that updated and ongoing disclosures regarding legislative lobbying are available to the public. When the legislature is not in session disclosures are required on a quarterly basis. The reports, when filed with the Commission, become public records available for inspection and copying. The State has alleged that Mr. Reed has a history of filing late reports and, despite the imposition of civil penalties by the Commission, he continues to be substantially late with his disclosure reports.

The criminal charges, filed in the District Court in Juneau, are misdemeanor offenses and are each punishable by a fine of up to $1000, imprisonment up to one year, or both. The charging documents allege that Mr. Reed did not file his 2007 3rd Quarter report, due October 31, 2007 until January 23, 2008 and that he was from three to six weeks beyond the statutory deadline with his four (4) 2008 legislative session reports, one for each month the legislature is in session. Additional counts allege the failure to file the June 2008 special session lobbyist report and the 2008 2nd Quarter lobbyist report by July 31, 2008, the statutory deadline for these reports.

A summons has been issued by the District Court in Juneau requiring Mr. Reed to appear for arraignment on these charges on August 28, 2008 at 1:15 p.m.

The charges are allegations only and Mr. Reed is presumed innocent of the offenses. See charging documents in separate attachment.

Invitation to Unalaska for ETS drill August 30th, 2008

The Honorable Sarah Palin
Governor, State of Alaska
Juneau, Alaska

RE: Aleutian Island Defense Strategy Second ETS Drill

Dear Governor Palin,
As you know, the inherent marine safety risks that radically shifting/strengthening weather patterns and sea states create make the Aleutian Islands a uniquely hazardous place for commerce. We have seen the Swallow, Kuroshima and Selendang Ayu on the rocks, broken and bleeding Bunker C into estuaries, marshlands and beaches. We lost 9 lives in those three incidents, and the financial cost of cleaning up the spills has been in the hundreds of millions of dollars.

After a near miss with the M/V Salica Frigo in March of 2007, I put together a working group made up of State, Federal and Local agencies and businesses to address the challenge of protecting our marine environment and economic stability in a pro-active manner. We had a very successful emergency towing system on the water exercise last summer with the partnership of the USCG, ADEC, the Alaska Marine Pilots and our local tugs the Gyrfalcon, James Dunlap and the Samson Mariner as well as the M/V Baltic Prosperity as our "disabled" vessel.

This summer the group agreed that it would be extremely valuable to run an on the water exercise using both the City's ETS and the State's ETS together on a 600' container ship graciously donated by Horizon Lines LLC. We are running this exercise as a drill to see if there are any standard operating procedures that we need to focus on for more efficient/safe deployment of a vessel of this size. The date of August 30, early in the morning has been decided upon for the drill, and we would be honored if you would join our group of local, state and federal participants who have come together to protect the lives and livelihoods that depend on the unique marine environment that we call home.

Please feel free to contact me with any questions regarding the training or the invitation to join us on August 30th, 2008. You can also visit our web site for more information on last years exercise at http://www.dec.state.ak.us/spar/perp/aiets/home.htm

Sincerely,

Mayor Shirley Marquardt

Branchflower Establishes Tip Line for Monegan Investigation

Special Counsel Asks Public to Call in With Information

(ANCHORAGE) – Today Steve Branchflower, Special Counsel to the Legislative Council, Alaska State Legislature, activated a tip line for Alaskans with information that could help the investigation into the circumstances surrounding the firing of former Alaska Department of Public Safety Commissioner Walt Monegan.

The tip line number is 907-264-6617

Callers will hear a brief recorded greeting from Mr. Branchflower with an invitation to leave information.

Mr. Branchflower served the State of Alaska for more than 20 years as an Assistant District Attorney prosecuting violent offenders. He was also the first Director for the state Office of Victims' Rights. In 2002, Branchflower conducted a study of the Municipality of Anchorage's 911 system. It provided a roadmap for improving the city's emergency response capabilities.

For more information, contact Senator French at (907) 269-0234.
